1. Soviet troops arriving by road from the wooded area south of Eberswalde (N 53/V 28) moved into the former Kradshuetzen Kaserne, Bad Freienwalde (N 53/V 28) during the night of 29 July 1950. The noise the troops made when moving along the road indicated that track-laying vehicles were with them. Immediately after the troops moved into the billeting area, the number of sentries and guards patrolling the area was increased. MI and officers of the unit appeared to be [REDACTED] arrivals at the post.

Comment. Analysis of motor vehicle numbers reported on 11 August 1950 confirmed that the elements of the 6th Gds Mech Div and the 25th Tank Div were still in the Templin area at that time. See [REDACTED] 25X1A. The intensified security measures and the billeting area indicate that new troops, possibly recruits, have moved in.
